The conference is part of the European-funded THRIVE-CARE project and, drawing on the experiences of Gesundheits-Zentrum-Neukölln (Geko), Village 2 Santé (V2S), and the Centre for International and Intercultural Health (CSI-APS), creates a space to share knowledge and tools, rethink primary health care through the lenses of power, inequality, and community engagement, and consolidate transformative, equity-oriented practices.

Research team:

Delia Da Mosto, Leonardo Mammana, Elisa Adami

the conference was organized with the support of Chiara Bodini and Martina Riccio.
